THE RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD

In the Apostles’ Creed we proclaim that we “believe in the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting.” Today’s readings invite us to explore these beliefs.

The passage from Second Maccabees makes it clear that belief in the resurrection of the dead was not born in Christianity, but in a time preceding Jesus’ coming. The martyred brothers proclaim their conviction that God will raise them to new life. No threat of death can bring them to break one of their religious laws. Death of their bodies is no death at all, compared to the spiritual death that would result from transgressing the law.

The silly riddle about marriage put to Jesus in the Gospel gives him an opportunity to speak of the “coming age,” when no one will be given in marriage, and no one will be liable to death. Jesus too stresses how ancient is this teaching, attributing this belief to Moses, who knew that God is the God of the living. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

School News

During the past few days our school has been hopping with many special activities.

On October. 24th we celebrated United Nations Day. Many students came to school dressed as a person from a country that belongs to the United Nations. The little ones had a United Nations parade and many others created projects exemplifying the special cultural ways of the people who try each day to keep our world safe and at peace.

On October. 29th we prayed especially for the families that are still recovering from Hurricane Sandy. We also had our unique Storytelling Contest that day. The younger classes recited a special story as a group and the older students competed individually to see who could recite a story the best. Congratulations to the winners: Ariel Isedenu, Jordyn Midi, Clifford Ambroise, Adelle Birchwood, Serge Douge, Regis Agbata, Taylor Liverpool, Aaron Vance, Kelly James and Jaden DelPeche. The children showed their love for reading as those who attended the assembly were entertained by their talents. A great time was had by all.
